Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year

CHRISTMAS IS HERE

—By Alice F. Tucker

I assume that everyone will be going home for Christmas. I also assume that you'll have a nice Christmas.

Christmas is a time when you meet old friends and relatives; and as a custom give and receive gifts. Above all, let's not forget the true significance of Christmas. Let's give thanks to God. We have a lot of things to be thankful for. We should thank Him everyday of our lives, not just on Thanksgiving Day.

Let's not forget that the highways are very crowded during the various holidays and that for some unknown reason some people tend to drive a little wreckless. Let's not forget to take our time and preserve our lives. Beware of the other driver. Let's put forth an effort and do our best to help everyone to live to see and enjoy this wonderful holiday which comes only once a year.

I do hope each and everyone will have a happy Christmas and will do their best to help make someone else's happy. Don't eat too much—save some for another day.

Best Wishes and a Happy New Year to all.

History Made as Five Co-eds Join Military Band

First it was girls in the Ag. school, now its co-eds in the ROTC band. Seems as if girls are making all the history at dear old PV this year.

The startling realization of females in the traditionally all-male ROTC band came when the group marched for their first football game performance on October 28. There were four then, now five. Band director Julius Jones says there will be more later.

While a little new, all Prairie View is happy about the transition. The girls certainly add beauty to the outfit, and some good music besides. The co-ed band members are Hilda Alex, Beaumont; Marchiusa Armstrong; Longview; Ethel Mitchell, Houston; Iva Joe Morton, Dallas; and Eloise Smith, Navasota.

Director Jones has been working toward building a 100-piece college band. Thwarted by funds for uniforms and instruments, he is trying to lick the problem another way. And he can. There are approximately 100 co-eds enrolled who played in their high school band.

Arkansas is Foe In Bowl Game

Prairie View, Texas — Arkansas A. M. and N. College will oppose Prairie View (Texas) A and M in the Prairie View Bowl scheduled December 31 in Houston.

The perennial host in this second oldest bowl game in the nation, Prairie View A and M figured in a three-way tie for the Southwestern Conference championship. The fighting Panthers with a 9-1 season's record, also are ranked in a four-way deadlock with Grambling College, Southern University and Florida A and M for the 1960 national Negro college grid title.

Arkansas' golden lions battled the Panthers in a close 17-8 contest at Prairie View during the regular season. See ARKANSAS, Page 5

National Council Secretary Speaks At Annual "Y" Leadership Institute

Leo B. March, associate secretary of the National Council of YMCA'S, New York was the keynote speaker for the 25 annual "Y" Leadership Institute held at Prairie View A and M College on December 2-4, 1960.

Over 700 young people and advisors of Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas attended the three-day conference. The theme for the conference this year was "In His Hand." W. Van Johnson, Y secretary at Prairie View, is chairman of the local planning committee.

This was a student-centered conference with Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club members featured in leadership roles in different areas throughout the conference.

The first general assembly of the conference was held in the gymnasium-auditorium on Friday, December 2, 1960 at 7:30 p.m. with Mr. Marsh, keynote speaker. The second general assembly was held at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, December 3, with Miss Barbara Bisor, president of the South Texas Hi-Y District presiding. From 10:15-12:15 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y 33 group meetings were held. Saturday afternoon session was featured by the presentation of a pantomime on "Proper Use of the Agenda". Saturday night's talent show and dance ended the second day of conference activities. On Sunday, December 4, 1960 the conference closed with the presentation of Sunday School and Chapel services by Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club members.

Scholarships to PV Students Total Over $35,000

A total of 143 students are receiving special scholarship assistance totalling over $35,000.00 during the current school year, Dr. J. M. Drew, chairman of the College Scholarship Committee announced.

Almost as many donors are listed, and they include private foundations, scholarship funds, schools, alumni clubs, church organizations, lodges and many others. The scholarships range in size from $50.00 to $800.00 for the year, with the average of about $25.00 per student.

These scholarships do not constitute all the help given to Prairie View students, since the largest donor is the state of Texas, through state scholarships to top high school graduates, and most recently, the "hardship" tuition scholarship.

Prairie View students are securing the maximum in loans available through the Federal Defense Loan Program.

In addition to these aids, it is estimated that approximately 500 students hold part time employment at the College.

Oliphant's Letter In "Intercollegian"

Copies of the December Intercollegian reaching college and university campuses last week carried a Christmas letter by Adam Oliphant, Prairie View senior, addressed to the student seeking status through heavy involvement in campus activities.

The Intercollegian, magazine of the National Student YMCA-YWCA, invited eight students and a college president to write Christmas letters directed to students holding campus leadership responsibilities or facing representative student problems. Oliphant offered his congratulations to the B. M. O. C., recognizing the values of extra-curricular activities, but stressed that the student's first responsibility is that of maintaining his status as part of the academic community.

A member of the Prairie View Student Christian Association, Oliphant is also regional conference co-chairman, Southwest Regional Student YMCA-YWCA.

FOR THESE THINGS I AM THANKFUL

—By Ernestine B. Stafford

I am thankful for my two wonderful parents, because they have helped me more than words can ever tell. They taught me right from wrong and worked hard to support me. They laughed when I laughed and cried when I cried. I am more than thankful for them.

I am also thankful for my husband and wonderful daughter. My husband has done, and is doing his best to provide for me and our daughter. I am thankful for my daughter who came into our lives and brightened them with her sweet smile.

I am thankful for my opportunity to get a better education, because all people who want an education are not able to obtain

one. I am thankful for my teachers, both high school and college. See THANKFUL, Page 5

Best Wishes From The Panther Staff

The members of the Panther Staff are happy to take this opportunity to extend to each of you best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We sincerely hope that your lives will be enriched and blessed through the joy of giving and brotherly love. HAPPY HOLIDAYS to all.

Why It Is Important To Complete Your Education

—By Johnnye Louise Reed

Today, it is virtually impossible for one to be an engineer, a doctor, a lawyer, or a teacher without first attaining a college education. Important positions in business are filled by college graduates. It pays to finish high school and college, but it pays especially well to become a good student while doing so. Business and professional leaders know will be "Be Strong In The Lord". He will close his series of lectures with a lecture on "Your Opportunity — What Will You Do with It."

from experience that college trained youngsters usually make the best thinkers and the best employees.

The person who fails to complete his education feels that he has been cheated. This causes the person to think differently. He remembers that he has no one to blame but himself. He misses one of the most valuable rewards one can have, personal satisfaction.

Best of all, one who has an education acquires an ability to mix with others. No one can achieve real success in life without knowing how to get along with others. Man is a social being. His personal needs are security and companionship. An education gives one the opportunity to develop the social skills necessary for him to succeed in life. He knows that he is capable of doing his part of the world's work, by filling any position of honor and responsibility in his community, county, state, or nation. He feels perfectly at home among the educated and the uneducated, the proud and the humble, the great and the unknown.

Back of every achievement there is planning. Wise use of one's time is a real achievement. At college one learns to enjoy and appreciate arts, the sciences, fine music, literature, travel, national and world affairs. He develops talents which he can share with his friends and the community. Life is never dull, but rich and free and meaningful.

With a college education you can assure yourself that, as long as you live and far beyond a vast majority of all the better paying positions will be held by those who have had college training.

Tell some people you can't get along with them and before long you can't get along with them.

International Night Observed at PV

"An Open Window on International Understudy" was the theme of International Night sponsored by the department of Economics, Geography, and Social Science Club Monday evening, December 5, in the Ballroom of the Student Memorial Center.

Highlighting the program was the presentation of guests, Mr. Robert L. Melcher, Foreign Student Advisor, Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station, Texas; Mr. Daniel Gromatges, Cuba; Mr. Ahmed El-Nokrachy, U. A. R.; Mr. Peter Heiz, Guatemala; and, Mr. Francisco Garza, Mexico; during the question and answer period conducted by Miss Yvonne McConico, a sophomore in Economics.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Ahmed El-Norachy, Cairo, Egypt; Mr. Uualdo Lerma, Mexico; and Mr. Rene Bendana, Honduras.

DR. FROOD ON FINE ARTS

In which Lucky Strike's gift to the arts selects "The World's Greatest Masterpieces" and reveals all—in fact, more than all—that is known about each.

Whistlers' Mother: This painting, by an unknown artist, depicts the housemother of a college sorority patiently waiting for a dance to break up in the next room. Note how the artist has captured the anguish and devotion of this lonely woman as she frets over her young charges (who were nicknamed "The Whistlers" because of the way in which they obtained dates).

Early Rembrandt: That Rembrandt was born a genius is conclusively proven by this little-known masterpiece. This, his first known painting, astounded critics and made the name Billy Rembrandt famous throughout Europe. Believe it or not, Rembrandt created this masterpiece when he was two years old!

The Thinker: What is The Thinker thinking? This has been as baffling to scholars as the riddle of the sphinx and "Who's on first?" But now it can be revealed that this statue is actually a Roman warrior who had been asked, "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?" When he failed to answer, "Luckies still do," he was turned to stone.

The Venus de Milo: Sculptured in the second century B.C. on behalf of a Greek pencil manufacturer, this great statue has won fame through the ages as the symbol of beauty parlors, bowling alleys, upholstery firms and reducing pills. Today it is used primarily as a vivid warning to small children who bite their fingernails.

Woman in Water: Here is the original of a great "lost" masterpiece which I was able to acquire for the ridiculously low price of $8,500. I mention this only to show what great bargains you can find in art if you know your subject. I determined the authenticity of this priceless original by proving that the small stain, upper left, was made by Renoir's favorite coffee.

AT LEFT: "MASTER OF ALL MASTERPIECES"! "Here, in my opinion," says Dr. Frood, "is the greatest work of art. Note the bold, clean strokes in LUCKY STRIKE, conveying the wisdom and pride of the manufacturer. Note the perfect circle, representing, of course, the perfect product inside. And in the product itself we find a truly magnificent expression of quality, good taste, pleasure and contentment. Surely, there is no work of art that, over the years, has brought more aesthetic joy not only to all of us in the art world, but to millions of people in all walks of life."

PVites Exhibit Real School Spirit At Pep Rally

—By Jamesetta Odom

On the evening of November 18, 1960, soaring spirits reached their peak when PVites showed that true good ole P. V. Spirit as never shown before this year during the pep rally for the Panthers for their Tennessee State-Prairie View gridiron clash the next afternoon. The response of the students even stunned the captain of the Cheering Squad, Jonell Wilson. She commended, "Gee, they've really got the spirit tonight! Maybe we should play Tennessee each year so we can experience at least one true pep session."

Captain Charlie Malone was welcomed with excited and warm cheers when he was introduced. He, in turn, presented the whole Panther team individually.

After a few spirited yells and songs, head majorette Doris Brown and majorettes Mary Jones and Jamesetta Odom twirled flaming and sparkling batons. Many students (especially the Tennessee State Team)

Geography Classes Visit Ship Channel

The Houston Ship Channel was visited by students in geography classes from Prairie View A and M College and from the Prairie View Training School, November 2. The group, totaling sixty in number, was accompanied by Mr. Charles Tatum, Prairie View geography instructor, and Mrs. J. L. Brown, instructor in the Prairie View Training School.

At the Channel, the group boarded a boat and took a three-hour cruise down the Channel to the San Jacinto Battleground. The boatcaptain pointed out to the group the various industries situated along the Channel that have helped to make Houston become the seventh largest city in the nation according to population. These industries have also helped Houston to have the second largest port in the nation according to tonnage.

The tour, the first of its kind made by Prairie View students, gave the geography students first-hand acquaintance with the Texas waterways.

This airplane is actually a flying classroom. The course taught in it is Air Navigation, under real conditions. The students are young men who have been selected as possible future leaders of the Aerospace Team. Graduation after 32 weeks of training will win each of the students the honored silver wings of an Air Force Navigator and an Officer's Commission.

For certain young men, this training can open the way to a bright career of executive potential. Right now the Air Force is scoring impressive technological advances in the fields of navigation, guidance and tracking, electronics and radar. And here is where its highly trained and experienced Navigators will be expected to take over command positions of increasing responsibility.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet, you must be between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. And you must want to build an exciting, interesting career in the Aerospace Age. If you think you measure up, we'd like to talk to you at the nearest Air Force Recruiting Office. To Boost Cultural Appreciation, Why Not Have More Live Performances by Visiting Artists?

By Sulsa Windom

In keeping with the efforts being exerted to improve the cultural-social standards of our community, with special emphasis here being placed on the area of cultural appreciation, I am suggesting that our goals can be more rapidly achieved if there were more live performances by visiting artists on our campus. When I say "by visiting artists," I don't mean "by visiting lecturers," I mean visiting stage performers and entertainers, for lectures we have enough of.

I was led to make this suggestion here after witnessing the performances given by the Latin American Trio and the Latin American dancer at the end of the International Night Program presented by the Department of Economics, Geography, and Social Sciences last week. The audience reaction to these performances was great. Interest was at a peak, as those who were in attendance at this program actually saw and heard in person individuals singing the songs of their native countries in their native tongue, and saw an individual perform a native dance from his native country. This is good.

We have had other performances by live artists this year, but all were in connection with some specific event or "week." There should be a way in which at least once a month there can be some sort of presentation by a live, visiting artist on campus. This should be an event just as the weekly movie is. Houston isn't too far away — this shouldn't be so hard to do.

I may add here, for the benefit of those who say "it won't work," that there are other performers outside of the so-called "long-hair" artists. When I say live artist, it doesn't necessarily imply a symphony orchestra, though such would be good. By live artists, I mean jazz groups, swing groups, choral groups, actors, small vocal groups, single performers, folk-singers, dancers, and the like.

How about it Prairie View? Can we do it?

As I See It

By Efton Geary

I have often been accused of being very critical on issues that affect the students' college life. I feel that it is necessary to let the students know how I feel towards the "New Image" program.

After observing the program presented to let the students feel the need for improvements and to develop an awareness of this fact, I have reached a basic conclusion, and I believe my conclusion will hold true with the majority of the students.

My conclusion is this; if one would look back on the weekend of December 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, one would see that it was one of the most important weekends of the school year. To refer to some of the things that happened previously, there were movies and dances. These events were very important. Along with this we had some important football games which added to student activities. These, also were very important but not as important as December 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. Some will ask why was this weekend so important. This answer comes as no one will ever notice or may not think about. The days started out to be just like any other day; but somehow there was a dance in the Union. This is most important because it reflected the fact that 100% student participation was there. The attitude of the students reflected that

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Through the graciousness of the Prairie View Alumni and Ex-Students Association, I was the exuberantly Joyful recipient of the latest copy of the Panther. I do not wish to comment on the work in question for the paper was a self-expressed commentator and what I could say in this writing could only be termed as a sort of weak translation of what is already expressed through the incomparable eloquence of the Panther within it self. I do think that it may be useful and, or stimulating to let you and the students of Prairie View know that one derives tremendous joy from reading the news of Pantherland, as was so marvelously expressed in your latest issue. You are greatly to be complimented.

Please continue to make Prairie View and yourselves distinguished in Texas, across these United States and over the entire cosmos for this is the kind of virtue that lives on when one takes his indefinite leave from Prairie View, and his definite leave from among the vital.

My sincere regards to the entirety of Pantherland and may your successes be eminently extravagant.

Reflections

—By Sulsa Windom

Christmas brings many wonderful, happy experiences to millions of people the world over. Below is a listing of several such experiences.

There is the community Christmas play where busy folk there existed all the grace and refinement that should exist.

To me, the students felt free, even freer than ever. There was no unorthodox actions on the part of the students.

Then the next day at 2:00 p.m., which was the 3rd a jazz session took place. This was the most important test that could have been placed before the students. The one thing that existed was only students acted as co-ordinators of the program. There were student chaperones and the like. The disorders that existed in the past at most events did not exist. (In fact being familiar with past events of this nature, it was threatened on several occasions to stop these events because of student conduct.) I have been waiting for this test to come about to see if the students could stand on their own. Just to reflect how well the students acted, the President of the College came in and I think that a great number of students never knew that he was present.

This is what has been needed at Prairie View for a long time. The question has often come up as to whether or not the New Image is taking effect among the students. I have presented facts to prove that the Image is taking place. I have even felt that the students were aware of the need to alter this conduct but we have not felt free enough to carry it out. The students' attitude in the past had been that of doing just the opposite of what they were told to do. I, myself, have found this to be true by my own actions. This was the result of having to suffer for what a small percentage of students did wrong.

The problems that have existed in the past are slowly coming to an end. This is so because there is an awareness on the part of students, faculty, and administration to the extent that progress can only be made through a joint effort of all.

The students want to feel free. We realize that this is coming, but being young we are sometimes impatient. We want you, the administration and faculty, to watch us more closely than ever; not just watch us as we take a good-night kiss or walk our dates home, (as this is a part of becoming mature) but watch us when we are not aware. We know you watch us at night and since we know this, we reflect the attitude of "not caring" because this attitude was here when we arrived. In other words we are acting according to what the students in the past did.

If we are given a little more freedom to carry out operation "New Image", like the weekend mentioned there will be a greater effort on the part of students to cooperate.

We highly appreciate the fact.

Must We Segregate Ourselves?

—By Nell Rose Antoine

"There is so much good in the worst of us, and so much bad in the best of us, that is behooves none of us to slight the rest of us."

Who can say that any person, club, organization, profession, culture, society, administration, or what have you is the best or are made up of the best people. Though some people's morals, beliefs, ideas, and values are different from others — this does not mean that any one group or thing is better than another. I feel this is true be-dispense with their daily chores to join together in a pre-dawn presentation of the story of the birth of Christ. There are the sleigh-rides over snowy, moonlit trails with bells jingling and the night filled with the ring of merry voices. There are the carols, old and new, sung loud and clear for the whole town to hear. There is the exchanging of gifts wrapped neat and tight, with the familiar exclamation, "It's what I've always wanted!" There are the happy voices of the small set who, upon reaching the Christmas tree, have discovered that Santa has left them a world of goodies and toys. There is the family reunion, with the table full of delicious dishes, where relatives, long-since having seen each other, talk over old times and old experiences.

All these things contribute to the celebration of Christmas, and make for happiness and long-lived memories. Yet, in looking back over the list, I see that I have omitted perhaps the most refreshing experience of the Christmas season — the stolen kiss from two sweet lips beneath the mistletoe. This, indeed, is nice.

cause what's best for one group maybe not necessarily be best for another. The thing to do here is to find what's best for you as an individual, not what's "the" best on the whole.

We talk disapprovingly or critically about students, clubs, organizations, societies, cultures, administrations, schools, etc. because really all do possess some undesirable qualities, but doesn't this prove the theory that began this article?

On our campus there exist such an abundance of practices as: the formulation of cliques, the shirking of responsibilities, the seemingly profound distaste for courtesy, the unconcernness of academic standards, and ah so many others which prove that there is a definite need for "Social Solidarity" (togetherness).

Not all, by any means, but perhaps too many of us segregate ourselves into clubs, cliques, groups and small societies that make almost impossible for us to develop wholesome, well balanced personalities. Is not one of our primary aims to highlight our educational training with the ability to get along well with others — all others.

I HAVE ALWAYS HAD an abiding hatred for the bottom crust of rye bread. There is no particular reason for making this point, except that whenever I think of Fort Lauderdale, I think of rye bread. There is no particular reason for that either, but I have been thinking of Fort Lauderdale. Fort Lauderdale is "where the boys are." Right now, that is. Most of the time, serenity reigns in Fort Lauderdale. (The Chamber of Commerce will hate me; they say it never rains in Fort Lauderdale.) But, for two weeks, twenty thousand collegians descend on this peaceful community and take it apart, peace by peace. They call it Spring Vacation, but it's more like amateur night at Cape Canaveral. They capture Florida and throw the Keys away. But I shouldn't joke — not while people are holding mass prayer meetings for an early hurricane season.

This is "where the boys are." And girls, too. Such girls, it makes you dizzy to look at them. If you look long enough, you reach an advanced stage of dizziness called aphrodisiac. It's like being in love. That's what happened to me, and it will happen to you, too. Everywhere you turn — beaches full of them, motels and hotels full of them, cars full of them, pools full of them, bathing suits full of them. Ah, bathing suits . . . when the man said, "It's the little things in life that count," he must have been thinking of bathing suits. But mostly, it's the girls.

Girls in love, girls in trouble, bright girls with a future, not-so-bright girls with a past, rich girls in the lap of luxury, poor girls in any lap that'll have them, girls of every size and discretion. It isn't any wonder that this is "where the boys are." And the things that happen are wacky and wild and wicked and warmly wonderful "where the boys are." Someone should make a movie about it. Hey, someone did! M-G-M calls it "Where The Boys Are," starring Dolores Hart, George Hamilton, Yvette Mimieux, Jim Hutton, Barbara Nichols, Paula Prentiss, with Frank Gorshin and introducing popular recording star Connie Francis in her first screen role. You'll want to see all the things that happen "Where The Boys Are."

Intramural Sports

Saturday, December 3, the final game of the Intramural Touch Football 1960 League was held. This thrilling match featured the Championship N. Y. A. Bears vs the All Stars, who represented all of the noted teams of the 1960 league. The teams were made up of:

ALL STARS: *Bernard Parker — Crescendoes, *Cecil Lynn — North Wing Colts, Chester Thompson — Sputniks, Beni Thornton — Sputniks, Ferias Furgerson — Sputniks, James Swanson — North Texans, Robert Parish — North Texans, Trou Johnson — North Texans, Walter Coit — North Texans, Bobbie Sherrall — Schuhmachers, George Thomas — Crescendoes, Chuck Raney — Crescendoes, Frank Dyer — Crescendoes, Thomas Houston — North Wing Colts, Maurice Powell — North Wing Colts, Batten Woods — North Wing Colts, Verdie Taylor — Barons, George Wooley — Barons, Donnie Sampson — Barons.

BEARS: John Wilkerson, J. Price, B. Sherdard, A. Devereaux, George Brown, Allen Broussard, Charles Fisher, and E. Kirk.

The game featured two tremendous teams of equal ability until late in the fourth quarter where the tide of touch football endurance changed to the N. Y. A. Bears offense and started the tremendous champions in the winning score. John Wilkerson, the unmentioned star quarterback of the league, completed the scoring toss from his thirty to Johnney Price, the fleet-footed halfback of the Bears, to mark a score of 6-0 over the All Stars. Again Wilkerson, the attained Bear's quarterback, connected with Abraham (Buck-Wheat) Devereaux to mark an additional two point margin over the chosen All Star Team.

The game ended with a score of 8-0, the Bears defeating the All Stars.

Starting this month, Intramural Basketball is expected to take its place in the land of activities.

According to the number of entries already received, interest is high over the campus. Mr. Roy Allen, Intramural Chairman, expressed his overall concern by stating, "We expect the programs to be on equal status over the year; interest in Intramurals over the Prairie View Campus is high."

Are you seeking the right type of deodorant? Maybe I can help you with these few tips.

Perspiration remedies are of two types: The anti-perspirant, designed to stop perspiration, and the deodorant which prevents disagreeable odor from forming. Some deodorants combine anti-perspirant and deodorant properties.

This is Miss Jacqueline Earl Hoffman, a senior majoring in Elementary Education and minoring in Spanish. Miss Hoffman hails from Houston, Texas. She is the second attendant to Miss Prairie View in which she gives excellent representation of the college. Dispite her participation in a great number of extra curricular activities, she has proven that she can excell academically and socially.

She is a member of the Kappa Omega Beta Social Club, Y. W. C.A., S. N. E. A., and a talented Charles Gilpin Player, in which she had the leading role in You Can't Take It With You and The Inspector General. In her sophomore year she reigned as Miss Blackshear Hall.

Presently she is working as the treasurer of the Sunday School and has been chosen as one of Prairie View's representatives in Who's Who Among American Students in Colleges and Universities.

Her hobbies are reading, writing and swimming.

7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Auditorium of the Memorial Student Center. The subject of the lecture was "Civilian Control Respecting Military Authority in the United States."

Colonel Booth presented a penetrating analysis of the causes and possible amelioration of the problem of ineffective control over military authority in American government. He pointed out the fact that our system of separation of powers, the constitutional allocation of powers to both Congress and the president which involve influence over the military establishment, and some features of the organization for military control within the executive branch have combined to undermine unified civilian control over military authority as well as professionalism in the military corps itself. The speaker then reviewed one of the proposals in the field of military organization which has been advanced as a partial corrective of the problem of dual control of military power in American government.

Two freshmen in political science, James L. Burleson and Charles H. Winters, shared the platform with Colonel Booth. Mr. Burleson, who is vice-president of the Political Science Club, presided; and Mr. Winters introduce the lecturer.

CLUB ROUND-UP

Kappa Omega Beta Social Club

Again the Kappa's are the highlights of the month. The Kappa girls on December 1, 1960 at 5:30 gathered at the fountain wearing club sweaters of Navy Blue with the letters of white on the emblem. The girls were eye catching to their coeds.

The Kappa's are the first club for young ladies to wear sweaters. Their brother club, Barons are very proud of their sister's progress.

Suarez Hall presented the program in women meeting and K. O. B. Thelma Jackson did an interpretative dance that was breath-taking to the young ladies.

The Kappa's and the Brother Club, Barons joined together for the annual Christmas Dance on December 9, in the Memorial Center ballroom.

Leroy Ingram, George Wooley, and Earnest Ray Moore narrated the program and William B. Garcia was organist.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED — These are members of Clu Les-Jeunes de Coeur, the new club organized primarily for mature students. The club recently presented a Christmas Vesper program.

New Club Sponsors News from Vesper Services Club Crescendo

Club Les Juenes de Coeur held its first annual vesper service December 4, 1960. The theme of the program was "Setting the Christmas Mood." The theme was carried out by readings, and the audience's participation in the singing of Christmas Carols. Miss Mary Lou Bryant held the audience spellbound with her rendition of "O Holy Night." Miss Bryant was accompanied by the organist, Mr. Eddie Pryor, who also supplied music throughout the program. The story of The Nativity was vividly told by Lawrence Thomas.

The club song, "The Young at Heart," played by Acy Graham, was heard during the history of the club was given and the introduction of the members was made. The narrator was Miss Rosalie Armstrong who is president of the Club.

The members of Club Crescendo are all busy engaging in college wide activities and carrying out the aims of the club.

Brother George Thomas presented a lecture in music appreciation at the Club's culture meeting which was presented for the Line's of the club by the Brother's. The members of Club 13-26 joined with the Brother's at the meeting. Another culture meeting was held at the Student Union on December 7, featuring Mr. Leroy Weaver in an art appreciation session. The club in these presentations the helping to promote the "New Image". These meetings have been a part of the Club's annual program for several years, helping to develop culture among the members of the club and potentials.

Plans are currently being made for the annual New Year's Social.

Pershing Rifles

Company Q-7 the National Society of Pershing Rifles held their annual banquet on Thursday evening, November 17, 1960 at 8:00 in the student center to honor the 47 new members of the society of Pershing Rifles.

Dr. Holmes of the Department of Economics, Prairie View A and M College delivered the banquet address. Other participants in the banquet program were 5-4 Al Theria Burrs who gave the invocation and company commander Edgar G. Henry who gave the welcome address. Following the banquet program the 47 new members were presented cards and ribbons.

Company Q-7 has been very active this semester. On November 18, 1960 Company Q-7 served as honor guards for Miss Tennessee State. The following day the company was featured at the half time activities at the game between Prairie View and Tennessee State with a new series of movements which proved to be favorable by the applause they received during the performance.

During the half time activities at the game between Prairie View and Southern University on November 26, 1960, Company Q-7 drill team and security platoon dedicated their performance of new movements and more rifle action to Miss Lilly Jones, "Miss Pershing Rifles" for the school term 1960-61.

As the football season closes, Company Q-7 will continue their hard work.

PROUD CADET — Cadet Richard Dunn, a native of Dallas, Texas, a freshman majoring in Political Science and a member of the National Society of Pershing Rifle was given this title, Proud Cadet, because of the great pride he took in escorting Miss Prairie View and Miss Tennessee State through the honor guards to the student center for a reception where Miss Tennessee State was presented a key to Prairie View's Campus.

What the Pershing Rifle Unit Is

The famed crack drill team that many of you have seen perform at football games and other places is merely one of the functions of the Society of Pershing Rifle unit. The unit on the campus is Company Q-7. Many students have asked the questions, "What is the Pershing Rifles?", "What does Company Q-7 mean?"

The Society of Pershing Rifles is the foremost honorary military fraternity, for basic R. O. T. C. cadets, in the United States. It was founded at the University of Nebraska in 1894 by General John J. Pershing. The society has as one of its aims, the obtainment of military precision in all aspects of military life.

There are over one hundred colleges and universities that have P/R units. The society is organized nationally on the basis of regiments in regard to location. There are at present twelve regiments. The unit on the campus is a member of the seventh regiment, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, and Missouri. The companies are assigned by alphabets as they become members. Prairie View became Company Q upon obtaining membership. As a result the Q-7 means Company Q, Seventh Regiment. The regimental headquarters is located at Oklahoma State University. The national headquarters is located as the University of Nebraska.

The unit here is one of the outstanding ones in the regiment and has received many fine commendations for its drill team and other functions. Company Q-7 of Prairie View A and M College is striving for future success and you will be hearing about its achievements throughout the school year.

Scabbard and Blade News

The National Honary Society of Scabbard and Blade, under the superb leadership of Captain Alvin Jeffery, has begun another year of leadership activities on campus. The first activity of the year was that of the Annual Scabbard and Blade Smoker held in November. This event was, as usual, a tremendous success.

The Initiation Program for this year was held during the week of December 5-10, 1960. The older members of the Society were very well pleased with the new members. Initiation activities culminated with the Annual Scabbard and Blade Initiation Banquet and Ball held on December 10, 1960.

So again this year, as in the past, the student body will look up to the Cadet Officers wearing the red and blue cord representing Scabbard and Blade. The Officers are: Cadet Alvin A. Jeffery, Captain (President); Cadet Willie D. Greene, 1st Lt. (Vice-President); Cadet Taft Barkley, 2nd Lt. (Treasurer); and Cadet Frank M. Dyer, 1st Sgt. (Secretary). The sponsor of the Society is Captain Walter Redd.

HOW TO BEAT THE BEAT GENERATION

My cousin Herkie Nylet is a sturdy lad of nineteen summers who has, we all believed until recently, a lively intelligence and an assured future. Herkie's father, Walter O. Nylet, is as everyone knows, president of the First National Artificial Cherry Company, world's largest maker of artificial cherries for ladies' hats. Uncle Walter had great plans for Herkie. Last year he sent Herkie to the Maryland College of Humanities, Sciences, and Artificial Cherries, and he intended, upon Herkie's graduation, to find him a nice fat wife and take him into the firm as a full partner.

Could a young man have more pleasing prospects? Of course not. But a couple of months ago, to everyone's consternation, Herkie announced that he was not going into the artificial cherry business. Nor was he going to stay in college. "I am," said Herkie, "a member of the Beat Generation. I am going to San Francisco and grow a beard."

Well sir, you can imagine the commotion in the family when Herkie went traipsing off to San Francisco! Uncle Walter would have gone after him and dragged him home, but unfortunately he was right in the middle of the artificial cherry season. Aunt Thelma couldn't go either because of her old leg trouble. (One of her legs is older than the other.)

"Herkie, how are you?"

So I went. I searched San Francisco for weeks before I found Herkie living under the counter of a Pronto Pup stand. "Herkie, how are you?" I cried, looking distraughtly upon his tangled beard, his corduroy jacket, his stricken eyes.

"Beat," said Herkie.

I offered him a Marlboro and felt instantly better when he took it because when one smokes Marlboros, one cannot be too far removed from the world. One still has, so to speak, a hold on the finer things of life—like good tobacco, like easy-drawing filtration, like settling back and getting comfortable and enjoying a full-flavored smoke. One is, despite all appearances, basically happiness-oriented, fulfillment-directed, pleasure-prone.

"Herkie, what are you doing with yourself?" I asked.

"I am finding myself," he replied. "I am writing a novel in the sand with a pointed stick. I am composing a fugue for clavier and police whistle. I am sculpting in experimental materials—like English muffins."

"And what do you do for fun?" I asked.

"Come," he said and took me to a dank little night club where men in beards and women in basic burlap sat on orange crates and drank espresso. On a tiny stage stood a poet reciting a free-form work of his own composition entitled Excema: The Story of a Boy while behind him a jazz trio played 200 choruses of Tin Roof Blues.

"Herkie," said I, "come home with me to the artificial cherries."

"No," said Herkie, so sadly I went home to tell Uncle Walter the bad news. He was less distressed than I had feared. It seems Uncle Walter has another son, a quiet boy named Edvorts, about whom he had completely forgotten, and today Edvorts is in business with Uncle Walter and Herkie is beat in San Francisco, and everyone is happy.

Panthers Take G.I.T. in Debut

While the Panther football team is searching for an opponent for the Prairie View Bowl, Coach Leroy Moore's net men are off to what looks like another successful season for Prairie View's basketball team.

The Panthers closed out the 1959 season with an impressive record of 21 victories and 5 defeats, placing third in the conference. (South Western Conference). It is considered one of the toughest to compete in.

The big man in the Panther attack is all-american Zelmo Beaty, 6' 8" center. Beaty averaged 24.8 points and 25 rebounds. He and Clarence Stubblefield will serve as captain of Panthers. Stubblefield 6' 1" guard is a steady performer who averaged 12.5 pts. a game. Much emphasis will be placed on Cornell Lackey, who averaged 15.8 points as a starting guard opposite Stubblefield, and Thomas Redmond. Redmond, 6'

5" forward is a very good rebounder and although not a starter, he averaged 9.3 points. He is also considered a good rebounder.

This group strengthened by a host of squadmen and freshmen combined are sure to be a threat to the conference as well as the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics honors. Last years' team finished the season with an average of 90.9 points a game. Only time will tell whether this feat will either be accomplished or threatened.

In starting the season, the Panthers journeyed to Georgia to compete in the Georgia Invitation Tournament. In the tournament, they took the crown with three straight victories. In doing so, Zelmo Beaty and Cornell Lackey were named to the all-tournament team. Beaty was also named to the list as the most valuable player of the tournament.

ZELMO BEATTY

All the games below were played in Georgia except the tilt with Tougaloo college. They were as follows:

P. V. 64	Dillard 55
P. V. 74	Morris Brown 52
P. V. 79	Winston Salem 62
P. V. 70	Tougaloo 68

The Panthers will make their debut on December 10.

Panthers Upset Jaguars

Houston, Texas — Prairie View A and M College defeated Southern University 23-15 here last week in a thrilling Southwestern Conference championship battle before 14,000 spectators at Jeppesen Stadium.

Southern's defeat threw the tight SWC race into a three-way tie with Prairie View, Grambling College and Southern sharing the prizes with identical 7-1 records for the season. The victory places Prairie View, with a 9-1 total record, in top position in the national Negro collegiate gridiron race which probably will be shared four ways, with three Southwest leaders and the once-defeated Florida A and M.

The determined Prairie View Panthers rose immediately to the occasion when they took the opening kick-off and marched downfield with successive drives John Harris and Charles Warner. Jackson scored the first touchdown in an 18-yard end run, and Harris' kick for the conversion was good.

With equal vigor the fighting Jaguars took their offensive turn and did the same identical thing, with halfbacks Verdis Theus and Robert Williams, fullback Robert Sims, and Cyrus Lancaster, Southern's colorful quarterback, leading the attack. Lancaster skirted left end from 24-yards out to annex the score. Williams kick knotted the score 7-7.

The balance of the first half was highlighted with outstanding pass interceptions to halt three penetrations by the Jaguars and one of the Panthers. Earnest Miller, a senior Panther guard, reached high to rob Lancaster of two aerals, and Harris the third in key play which really made the difference. A Panther aerial drive was similarly thwarted late in the second period when Theus brought down Jackson's pass to turn the tide.

Prairie View moved quickly to take advantage after the half, driving deep into Jaguar territory where Jackson, in a surprise keeper play, ran 9-yards easily to tally. Harris' kick was good. The back-breaker came when the Panthers dropped Williams in the intercepted Lancaster's pass for a 30-yard score. Harris again kicked successfully for the extra point.

Southern, in a last minute desperate attempt to save the game, was led by Theus in a 60-yard kickoff return, and Lancaster later threw to Joseph Jordan to score from 10 yards out. Lancaster faked a kick and ran for the conversion.

Panthers Shock Tennessee St. 21-0 on Dads' Day

An alert defense enabled the Prairie View A and M Panthers to slip past the Tennessee State Tigers 21-0 on Blackshear Field celebrating Dads' Day.

The contest marked the first meeting of the two Perennial powers since 1956, in which the Panthers lost 32-7, however a year earlier the Tigers won 45-0. The two defeats are the worst in Panther history of recent years.

After receiving the opening kickoff the Tigers had the ball on the Panthers 38 yd. line. The Tigers gained only 9 yds. on three tries and punted, giving Prairie View it's first opportunity. Charles Warner, John Harris, and Archie Seals collaborated to give the Panthers 14 yds. and a first down, but on the next play a fumble resulted, giving the Tigers possession. The Tigers took to the air and was immediately thrown for a 7 yd. loss. On the next play, Eugene Stewart fired a flat pass that was intercepted by linebacker John Harris who sprinted 45 yds. for the first Panther TD. The kick was good as P. V. led 7-0.

The second marker came in the 2nd quarter a result of a poor Tiger punt that gave Prairie View possession on the Tiger 33 yd. line. Fullback Sam Clark, making his first appearance of the game, galloped 31 yds. to the Tennessee's 2 yd. line. After unsuccessful attempts by Clark, Carl Jackson slipped into the end zone. The kick was good. The third Panther score came when Carl Jackson completed a 12 yd. pass to Charles Fisher. The kick was good as the final score read 21-0.

The statistics show Tennessee State leading in total offense 243 to 123 with 171 coming through the air as 9 of 25 were completed. The Tigers chances were doome as they had 4 passes intercepted. Harris, Tommy Williams, Archie Seals, and Walter Ford took 112 yds. in four swiped passes. Otherwise Charlie Malone, who threw a key block on Harris td. run, Willis Garrett, John Autry, Jessie Felder, Earnest Miller, Charles Fisher, and Joseph Summerfield were just too much line talent to budge. The final score P. V. 21, Tennessee State 0.
